Aleatoric Orchestral Phrases

Tutti was the first orchestral product we made. It has served us, and many composers well. Now it is time for it to retire. But Tutti is not going down without a fight - we're seeing it off with a bang, by making a selection of its phrases available for free to everybody!

And Bangs there are plenty in this product, Bangs, Swooshes, Rumbles, Crescendos - all as atonal as we could get them and recorded with the entire orchestra present in the hall. We had so much fun recording Tutti!

This new incarnation does away with all the complexity of the original, and boils it down to its very core: you hit a key, you get a sound.

There are four octaves, each of which you can populate with any of the banks colour-coded by category. You load a bank, you hit a key, you get a cool orchestral effect. You're welcome!

The scores are central in the interface, so you'll know what to write to get the orchestra to play something like this:)

We hope you all enjoy using this as much as we've enjoyed making it, and that we will see you again in our store to check out our other products!

We, at Sonokinetic BV, are very proud to introduce Tutti Free and can't wait to hear the amazing things you, our valued customer base, will produce with it.

Sonokinetic has established a name as one of the best value & quality sample producers and with this product we'd like to underline that statement. We stick with our unbeatable pricing module and high quality sampling.

We wish you the best inspiration and creativity.

With warm regards,

The Sonokinetic Tutti Free Production Team
